

Week at a Glance: May 15, 2017

As always please make sure your child is bringing their VIP to and from school each day.

Folders went home today. Students did not do as well on the Unit 3 bend assessment as I had hoped. The grades have been updated on Powerschool for you to see. There will be 2-3 more grades for ELA this nine weeks.

Math: We have begun a new unit in math. Unit 9 will extend the knowledge of adding and subtracting to include mixed numbers. Students will explore a conceptual way to multiply and divide fractions. The test on unit 9 will be Thursday with open notes.

Reading/Writing: They are working on a literary essay and will have homework for part of the lesson in order to be ready for instruction the following day. Most of the writing for the essays will be done in class but may be completed for homework if they don't finish in class.

Science: We are in a unit on Force and Motion. They have received notes and should be studying a little each day. The quiz will be Wednesday with open notes. We've been reviewing with Kahoot in class.
